Mission:

The New York Health Products Council is a non-profit educational organization of the healthcare industry in New York State.

Our primary objective is to bring together members of the healthcare community with the goal of educating New Yorkers about the power and potential of healthcare in New York State to cure disease, inspire innovation, improve patient outcomes, and strengthen the economy.

Current Initiatives:

- New York's Alliance Against Chronic Disease, a patient-centered collaboration among various health care stakeholders aimed at improving patient outcomes, eliminating health disparities, and containing costs
- Vaccine sub-committee focused on educating New Yorkers about the value of vaccines and other preventative therapies
- Educating New Yorkers about how to tap into the power of the health care industry, especially around issues like the proper disposal of medicines, innovative technologies and patient access
